AREA AGENCIES ON AGING
an invaluable resource to older Virginians and their caregivers

Who We Are

Virginia Association of Area Agencies on Aging (V4A) is a private, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization established in 1976. The Board of Directors is comprised of leaders of each of the 25 Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) in Virginia. V4A:

- Takes positions on relevant state & federal initiatives
- Provides public education relevant to the needs of older Virginians
- Acts as a liaison between national and state organizations and the AAAs
- Serves as a link with the Virginia Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services and other public and private organizations promoting aging issues
- Provides a network of information exchange among the AAAs
- Promotes training & education activities
- Provides opportunities for development of creative ideas, resources and discussion of potential solutions to problems faced by older Virginians

Principles

V4A believes that there should be resources necessary to maintain a range of locally determined support services for older Virginians and their families.

V4A believes these services should help supplement family care in the setting of choice with the assurance of quality.

V4A believes care of older adults is a family issue, impacting lifestyles, job performance and financial well-being.

What We Do

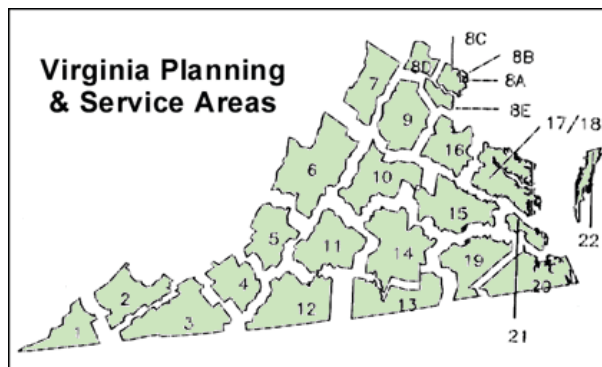

Advocate for the resources and policies that will allow its members to help provide the choices older adults need to lead meaningful lives.

Improve the capacity of its members to better serve and represent older adults and their caregivers through information, education, training and technical assistance.

Promote the critical roles AAAs play in helping older persons and their caregivers.

Be a focal point for its members in the development and implementation of a statewide system of home and community-based services and supports and long-term care, building upon the existing aging network.

Facilitate cooperative relationships among the aging network, other public agencies, and private sector organizations to develop an accessible and comprehensive system of services.
